

Write a parser for the site `dermstore`, for example, take the page - <https://www.dermstore.com/tripollar-desire-toning-device/13525895.html>

The result of the work should be 6 parameters:

- `Product name` (screenshot1);
- `Brand name` (screenshot1);
- `Price` (screenshot1);
- `Main image url` (screenshot1);
- `Product overview block` (screenshot 2);
- `How to use block` (screenshot 2);

Requirements:

- The solution should be as universal as possible and suitable for other product pages from this site;
- the initial url for processing is set through the script launch parameters (e.g. `python your_incredible_script.py -u url_for_processing`);
- the result must be written to a csv file, as headers write the name of the processing parameters (e.g. `Product name`, `Brand name` etc.).

Product Overview

Get professional results faster than ever. The TriPollar DESIRE offers the most efficient pure RF treatment yet, giving you aesthetic results both immediately and with lasting natural outcomes. The Turbo function specifically designed for the TriPollar DESIRE contributes to highly effective treatment with fast, focused RF heating of the tissue, made more tailored by the Thermal Mapping Algorithm. This TriPollar device delivers RF energy into the dermis skin layer to naturally build collagen and repair elastin for a lifted, smoothed, and plumped effect from the very first use. Users enjoy a reduction in the appearance of wrinkles, toning and refining of facial features, and plumping and tightening of sagging skin. Using the TriPollar DESIRE regularly can effectively erase the signs of aging.

Product Overview

How to Use

The TriPollar DESIRE uses TriPollar 3rd Generation technology, the newest, most up to date radio frequency technology on the market, clinically proven to offer great results, and boosts its results further with the addition of the Turbo feature and Thermal Mapping Algorithm.

TriPollar 3rd Generation Technology uses three alternating RF currents (rather than one, or two) to cover and treat a large treatment area which provides more efficient heating, a more even distribution of heat across the skin, and a shorter necessary treatment time. With the addition of the Turbo feature, this is amplified to an efficiency that TriPollar Multi-RF has been unable to achieve previously.
